Description

Peavey returns to the roots of an American tradition with the introduction of the Delta Woods acoustic guitars. The DW series guitars are designed to be the best-sounding, easiest-playing, full-size acoustic guitars Peavey has ever built. The new models are made using only high-end materials and a minimalistic satin finish, resulting in excellent tone and volume.

Whether players are casually strumming a traditional 12-bar blues riff or exercising modern fingerpicking techniques, Peavey's Delta Woods acoustic guitars deliver rich tonal resonance and premium playability. The Delta Woods DW-2 offers a gorgeous spruce top with mahogany back and sides for premium tone. The solid spruce top offers incomparable resonance and sustain. Hand-carved bracing provides even tone distribution throughout the guitar's range.

The DW-2 also has a bound fingerboard and body along with a fanciful rosette, rosewood fretboard, and pearloid dot inlays for a premium look and feel.

Other high-end appointments include sealed tuning machines for precise and accurate tuning, pre-installed strap buttons, a compensated saddle for ideal intonation, and a wood truss rod cover for the dual-action truss rod, designed to ensure a lifetime of playability.

The Delta Woods series guitars feature a luxury satin finish that offers a rustic appearance, with beautiful, natural wood grain on the back, sides and headstock.
